We were recently looking at a planning project and realized as we started the conversation that two critical board members have conflicting agendas. We had a scope but could not get agreement on the consultant.

I would imagine this is not uncommon, but our BID is relatively new and we don't have experience with managing this at the board level.

Any thoughts/experiences to share?

Does anyone have a good example of a RFQ/RFP for installing/ uninstalling holiday light tree wraps?

Thanks,

The Downtown Windsor BIA is exploring the feasibility of licensing buskers on the downtown streets and we are asking people to share their best practices, experiences and advise in this regard. We're especially interested in any by-laws and/or regulations people may have in place with their municipal partners.
